Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

WHEREAS the Juſtices of the Peace for the more remote Parts of this Province, do continue to commit all Priſoners to Charles-Town Goal, without having Reſpect to the Diſtrict in which the Offence wherewith they are charged was committed, which renders it neceſſary to remove the ſaid Offenders to their reſpective Diſtricts, there to be tried, agreeable to the Directions of the Circuit Court Act, with Inconvenience to themſelves, and at a great Expence to the Public: To prevent which, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, That the ſeveral Coroners and Juſtices of the Peace for the ſaid Province, do, for the future, commit all Priſoners to the Goal of the Diſtrict wherein the Offences, wherewith they are charged, were committed. And that they do take Recognizances for the Appearance of the ſeveral Parties and Witneſſes, at the Times and Places mentioned in the ſaid Act, for the Courts to be held reſpectively, and tranſmit the ſame, together with the ſeveral Examinations, Depoſitions, and other Papers relative thereto, to the Crown-Office in Charles-Town, agreeable to the Rule made for that Purpoſe on the 11th Day of May laſt, and then publiſhed in the ſeveral Gazettes of this Province, except ſuch as may be taken in the Country Diſtricts, within One Month of the Sitting of the Court for the Diſtrict in which the Offence is to be tried, which they are hereby ordered to return to the Clerk of the Crown, upon the Circuit, or his Deputy, at the Court-Houſe of ſuch Diſtrict, on the Morning of the Firſt Day of the Court, that there may be no Delay in the Buſineſs thereof.

By Order of their Honours the Judges,

JAMES JOHNSTON, C. C. & P.

Charles-Town, July 23, 1772.

WHEREAS THOMAS WALTER, late of Charles-Town, Merchant, did, on the 23d Day of Auguſt laſt, execute unto the Subſcribers, an Aſſignment of all and ſingular his real and perſonal Eſtate, Rights and Credits, in Truſt for the Benefit of ſuch of his Creditors, named in a Schedule thereunto annexed, in Average and Proportion to the Amount of their ſeveral and reſpective Demands, who ſhould within twelve Calendar Months from that Day, deliver unto the ſaid THOMAS WALTER, a final Releaſe and Diſcharge of their ſaid Demands. AND WHEREAS the Subſcribers have not only long ſince given Notice of the ſaid Aſſignment, and made a public Declaration of the ſaid Truſt, in this Gazette; but repeatedly requeſted the Creditors, to deliver in to one or other of the Subſcribers, an exact State of their ſeveral and reſpective Demands: And inaſmuch as little Regard has been paid to their Requiſition, and not one of the Creditors has yet executed a Releaſe and Diſcharge, to the ſaid THOMAS WALTER, agreeable to the ſaid Aſſignment, altho' the Period allotted for that Purpoſe, is nearly expired; the Subſcribers being diſtrous of rendering equal Juſtice to the Creditors, do therefore, for the laſt Time, give this public Notice to ſuch of them who are, or may be willing to accept a Dividend, under the ſaid Aſſignment, and they are hereby requeſted to execute unto the ſaid THOMAS WALTER, a Releaſe and Diſcharge of their ſeveral and reſpective Demands, before the 23d Day of Auguſt next; in Default whereof, they will be excluded from any Share or Intereſt, in the Monies to ariſe from the ſaid Truſt: And in Regard the ſaid THOMAS WALTER, at preſent reſides in the Country, to prevent any Difficulties to the Creditors, on that Head, either of the Subſcribers will receive ſuch Releaſes and Diſcharges, in his Behalf. And the Subſcribers do give this further Notice, that unleſs the Creditors executing ſuch Releaſes and Diſcharges, do moreover liquidate and aſcertain their ſeveral and reſpective Demands, and deliver in an exact State thereof, unto one or other of the Subſcribers by the laſt mentioned Day, their Dividends will be calculated on the Sums of Money oppoſite to their reſpective Names, in the Schedule annexed to the ſaid Aſſignment.

PETER MANIGAULT,
ROBERT WILLIAMS, jun.

WHEREAS the COMMISSIONERS appointed to drain the Cypreſs Swamp, have frequently given Notice for the Owners of ſaid Lands on the ſaid Swamp, to make a Return upon Oath of the Number of Acres they poſſeſs, liable to be overflowed by the Waters of the ſame, and no Regard having been paid to their long Indulgence, THEY THEREFORE GIVE THIS LAST NOTICE, That unleſs a Return is made on or before the Firſt Monday in November next, to one or other of the Subſcribers, the Law will be put in Force againſt all Defaulters; and the Commiſſioners will on that Day attend to receive the ſaid Returns at Mr. Daniel Droze's, in Dorcheſter.

As the whole of the ſaid Drain is now undertaken, and is in great Forwardneſs, it is expected that the Owners aforeſaid will be punctual in their Returns, that the Commiſſioners may be enabled to comply with their Engagements to the Undertakers.

JOHN JOOR, DAVID OLIPHANT, WILLIAM SANDERS, BENJAMIN WARING, JAMES SANDERS, RICHARD WALTER, JOHN JOOR, jun. SAMUEL HAMLIN, RICHARD SALTUS.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subſcriber, by Order of the Honourable the Court of Common Pleas of this Province, was lately appointed Truſtee or Aſſignee of the Eſtate and Effects of ANDREW TAYLOR, of Charles-Town, Taylor, an Inſolvent Debtor; and by like Order, all the outſtanding Debts, Eſtate and Effects of the ſaid ANDREW TAYLOR, were aſſigned to him, in Truſt for the Creditors of the ſaid ANDREW TAYLOR, who might be willing to receive a Dividend of the ſaid Eſtate, according and in Proportion to their ſeveral Debts; and ſhould, within Twelve Months, from the Time the ſaid ANDREW TAYLOR was diſcharged, viz. the 7th Day of July laſt, deliver unto the ſaid Truſtee, an exact Account upon Oath, of the ſeveral Debts and Demands to them owing: The Truſtee therefore requeſts the Creditors of the ſaid ANDREW TAYLOR, to be ſpeedy in delivering a State of their Demands; and all ſuch as are indebted to the ſaid Eſtate, to diſcharge the ſame forthwith, or elſe muſt expect to be ſued by next Return Day.

JACOB VALK, Aſſignee.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subſcriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years paſt, have thereby introduced it to Buſineſs.---He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindneſs to him, as it was very induſtriouſly inſinuated, that Rice would not ſell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himſelf all his Friends are fully ſo too, that their Crops landed in large or ſmall Parcels, will ſell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and ſell Rice or Indico landed thereat: He therefore chooſes to decline that Buſineſs, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will ſtill land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he ſhall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all poſſible Diſpatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is ſure there are none preferable to them in Town in thoſe Reſpects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more ſecure from Fire; and 'tis almoſt impoſſible for a Barrel of Rice to be loſt or ſtolen in Landing or Shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as uſe his Wharf conſtantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:----No prudent Planter but muſt be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmoſt Conſequence to him, as many, for theſe three Years paſt, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) diſpoſed of very much againſt their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is ſure has been the Caſe, particularly this Year ſeveral Times, notwithſtanding the Shortneſs of the Crop.

Meſſrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themſelves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will tranſact their Buſineſs on his Wharf.---To theſe Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend ſuch of his Friends who are not otherwiſe engaged.

Chriſtopher Gadſden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for ſuch Parcels of Rice as they purchaſe at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,

THAT they continue the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, (on the uſual Terms) and for the Conveniency of good Storage, will tranſact it on Captain GADSDEN's Wharf, where they deſire thoſe of their Friends that it may be agreeable to, will Order ſuch Goods as they ſhall direct to their Care, being convinced that they will ſell as well there as at any other Place in Charles-Town. Conſtant Attendance will alſo be given at their other COMPTING-HOUSE on the Bay.----Their Friends will be ſupplied with proper Boats, agreeable to their Orders; and they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favors, by a ſteady Attention to their Employers Intereſt, eſpecially as they are determined to confine themſelves to the FACTORAGE BUSINESS only; and they aſſure their Friends that they are not in any wiſe intereſted in Captain GADSDEN's Stores, ſo that whenever they ſhall think it prudent to Store for a better Market, it muſt be ſolely with a View to their Friends Intereſt.

N. B. Wanted to attend on ſaid WHARF, a Perſon well qualified and recommended.

A Freſh Parcel of Dr. KEYSER's GENUINE PILLS, are to be had, with full Directions for their Uſe in all Caſes, at CHARLES CROUCH's Printing Office in Elliott-ſtreet; where may be ſeen, a Narrative of the Effects of Keyſer's Medicine, with an Account of its Analyſis, by the Members of the Royal Academy of Sciences.

To pleaſe the Wiſe is eaſy, but to correct the Folly of Fools, is like taking a Razor to cut down Trees.

SINCE cuſtom prevails ſo much amongſt men, that they cannot meet and be merry without drinking, nor get drunk without propoſing toaſts; let them uſe the following; if they don't ſerve to mend their morals, they will at leaſt mend their manners.

1. May the King never want health and his ſubjects never want obedience.

2. May wiſdom direct the miniſters, and ſtate-menders learn to mend themſelves.

3. May liberty never make us licentious, and reſtraint never make us ſad.

4. May we never ſeek more liberty than conſtitutes our happineſs, nor more freedom than tends to public good.

5. May we never condemn that in others which we would pardon in ourſelves.

6. May we never feel the jealous fury which gnaws the breaſt of the ambitious fool.

7. May the cares which haunt the heart of the covetous, never diſturb our peace.

8. May we never deſire plenty but to relieve the unhappy, and ſuccour the diſtreſſed.

9. May we be happy enough to find friends, but never ſo miſerable as to put them to a ſevere trial.

10. May the deformity of other men's vices teach us to abhor our own.

11. May we be more ready to correct our own faults, than to publiſh the faults of others.

12. May the conſideration of other men's follies teach us to correct thoſe we have, and ſhun thoſe we may have.

13. May we never be ſuch cowards as to refuſe to die when we muſt, nor wiſh to die, when we muſt not.

14. May we never be afraid to do that at any time, which we know we muſt do once.

15. May we never be ſo baſe as to envy the happineſs of others.

16. May we never give ourſelves the denial, by aſking what we have no right to obtain.

17. May our imaginations never create unkindneſſes, and remember them, nor unmake paſt favours, and forget them.

18. May we never be ſuch ſlaves to cuſtom, as to take one ſtep in vice, for fear of being unfaſhionable.

19. May we enjoy our preſent bleſſings, but never lament the loſs of thoſe we cannot keep, nor grieve for the want of thoſe we cannot obtain.

20. May we never raſhly believe the reports we hear, nor haſtily cenſure the man we hear not.

21. May we never condemn by hearſay, nor applaud by faſhion.

22. May nought be the object of our hatred but vice, and nought be the object of our veneration when virtue is wanting.

23. May we never deſire money, but as a paſſport to travel through the world without begging.

24. May we never be ſo far miſled as to think a rich man wiſe, merely for his wealth.

25. May we never be ſo debaſed as to permit our tongues to betray the whiſpers of worthy men.

26. May we never detract unworthily, nor flatter thoſe who can hear us.

27. May we never ſpend our means ambitiouſly, nor endeavour to ſupply them wickedly.

28. May the bounteous heart never ſuffer poverty, nor the generous heart adverſity.

29. May we be faithful to our friends and generous to our enemies.

30. May we never aſſume the liberty of tying all men to our own tenets.

31. May we never ſpeak what we are aſhamed to repeat, nor do that which we may bluſh to hear repeated.

32. May we never injure the abſent nor the innocent, nor willingly deceive the man that truſts us.

33. May we never deſpiſe the poor, becauſe we are twins by nature, nor deſpiſe the ignorant, becauſe nature ſeemed to deſpiſe him.

34. May we firſt conquer the enemies that are within us, and then thoſe that are without.

35. May we always have one guard to keep the heart from extravagancies, another to keep the enemy from approaches.

36. May we learn to know our own hearts better, and truſt them leſs.

37. May we never pronounce certain judgment, without certain knowledge.

38. May we never think ourſelves ſo much above others, as to treat them with ſcorn.

39. May no man's weakneſs occaſion our greater weakneſs, by proud contempt.

40. May we make the choice of our companions one of the moſt weighty concerns of our lives.

41. May we be thankful in proſperity, and undaunted in adverſity.

42. May poverty never tempt us to mean actions, nor proſperity prompt us to mean pride.

43. May our imaginations never delude us with hopes of finding perfect happineſs, or perfect miſery in the world.

44. May we never think our own ſtate lamentable, by ſeeing others decked with honour and greatneſs.

45. May envy and ambition never make us more miſerable, than the ſtate which liberal nature hath allotted us.

46. May we never imagine ourſelves in want by looking at the abundance of others.

47. May the better fortune of others never put us out of conceit with our own.

48. May we never pick our ſorrows from other men's joys, nor our joys from other men's ſorrows.

49. May we never be ſo proud as to ſcorn a corrector, nor think it too mean to learn of an inferior.

50. May the law never have power to ſtrike our virtue, nor fortune to ſubvert our wiſdom.

51. May our pride never increaſe our enemies, nor put our friends to flight.

52. May our modeſty chide us from bad company, and our virtue reſtrain us from bad enterprizes.

53. May our modeſty reſtrain the unciv'l tongue, and chain up the licentious hand.

54. May the modesty of women be like the Angel's flaming sword, to keep vice from the paradise of their chastity.

55. May we be jointly ashamed to be seen by their things which every a just infamy with them.

56. May we rather endeavour to kill an injury by neglect, than injure ourselves by revenge.

57. May we be more assiduous to gain our enemies by deserving their friendship, than punish them for being enemies.

58. May we never murmur at the things that must be, but patiently bear the ills we cannot redress.

59. May the thoughts of what is past never augment our cares, nor the hopes of what's to come ever increase our fears.

60. May the brazen bell of our tongues never strike to make the world believe we have the church within us.

61. May we never so much remember our own virtues, as to teach others to remember our vices.

62. May the consciousness of our own innocence ever afford us that pleasure, which the lewd man never enjoyed and the guilty never felt.

63. May we never be so deceived, as to find charms in beauty where modesty is wanting.

64. May we respect our superiors without meanness, treat our equals with affability, and our inferiors with tenderness and humanity.

65. May the unhappiness of others rather melt us to tears of sensibility, than the smiles of indifference.

66. May we never be so extravagant as to beggar ourselves for being ashamed of poverty, nor so covetuous as to live like beggars for fear of being poor.

67. May we never be so idle as to suffer the Devil to catch us napping, nor so busy as to have no time for ourselves.

68. May we always be assured, that happiness is a jewel, not to be purchased by all the acres and bank notes in the world.

69. May our friends ever love us, wise men ever esteem us, and fools never hate us.

70. May bright talents never be employed to make virtue appear contemptible, nor humour and wit, to make vice alluring.

71. May our delicacy never meet with a frigid reception, nor our modesty with a cool indifference.

72. May the practice of our religion ever be the first of our cares, and the laugh of fools the last of our fears.

LONDON, May 26.

THE following account of Count Struensee is transmitted from Hamburgh.-----The Count was born at Halle, on Aug. 5, 1737; his father was pastor of the parish of Ulric. He began his first exercises in a public school in that city, after which he was removed to the University there, where he studied physic, and received his Doctor's Degree. In 1757 he went with his father to Altona, where the latter was appointed First Pastor, with the title of Ecclesiastical Counsellor to the King. Soon after the son was appointed physician to the Signiory of Pinneberg and of the county of Rantzau; here he practised his art with great success, and was in such a situation as to have lived happily, contentedly, and esteemed: But how few can properly enjoy the precarious state of mediocrity! In 1768 he was appointed physician to the King, and chosen to accompany him on his travels to England, Holland, Germany, and France: This unhappily was the beginning of his greatness. He accompanied his Majesty throughout, and gave him the greatest proofs of his zeal and attachment, and had more than one opportunity of exercising his skill in the medical way both on the King and Queen: His affiduity and address soon gained him the affections of their Majesties, and the King appointed him his reader; on the 12th of May, 1769, his Majesty invested him with the character of Counsellor of State, and two days after with that of Counsellor of Conference, and in December following appointed him Master of Requests: In the month of July 1771, he was declared Minister of the Cabinet, and at the same time raised to the dignity of a Count, and invested with the Order of Queen Caroline Matilda; so that he enjoyed his height of greatness little more than six months. It is false that he was accused of diverting to his own use 15 tons of gold from the Treasury, it being only six; but when his accusers were at work, it was as easy to write the one sum as the other.

WARSAW, May 9. The Prussian troops have entered Lissa, where they have left a garrison of 40 men. General Anhalt being arrived in the district of Posnania with 75 squadrons, immediately sent an officer to Zaasy to acquaint the Confederates there that they must retire, and upon their refusing so to do, they were immediately attacked and cut to pieces. After this expedition the Prussians pursued their march to Pareiken, and now block up Kosten, a Castle situated on the frontiers of Silesia, which the Confederates have fortified. On the other side the Austrians continue to advance into this kingdom: They are at present in the districts of Sanock and Sandeck, and it is said they are to extend themselves into Posnania and Holicia.

May 18. The number of Russian troops in Poland and Lithuania amount to 40,000 men; Lieutenant-General Bibikow has the entire command of them, and has the Lieutenant-Generals Van Elmpt, Romanius, and Tottleben under him. The Prussians increase daily in those parts.

FROM THE LOWER ELBE, May 19. The following account is said to be brought from Denmark, by an express from Copenhagen to Hanover, that the Queen Caroline Matilda is actually in Copenhagen, and entirely reconciled with his Majesty.

LEGHORN, May 8. It is reported here, that the Pretender, who was some time ago married to the Princess Stolberg, will obtain the Kingdom of Corsica.

COPENHAGEN, May 12. The manner in which the execution of Count Struensee was performed has shocked and much enraged all classes of people in this city, and in particular that of the populace. For in the first place the Count was ordered to be a spectator of Brandt's execution: In the next place, he was not permitted to have the spiritual consolation of Dr. Munter during his last moments. Thirdly, Struensee's hand and head were laid upon the same block on which Brandt had just before suffered, the life-blood of that latter state-convict being still rushing hot. Fourthly, the executioner had orders to stay six minutes between cutting off the Count's right hand and decollating his head, so that during those six minutes the Count was in such convulsions that the spectators, who could no longer bear the shocking scene, were upon the point of breaking out into an actual revolt, which, though it did not take place then, is now daily expected to happen.

May 14. According to all appearance, there is another revolution at hand, and if it should so happen, there will be more blood-shed than at the other. The inhuman treatment of the Queen Caroline Matilda, the cruel execution of Counts Struensee and Brandt, and the barbarity used to the other State prisoners, calls loudly for vengeance to fall on the heads of those that have been the authors of their sufferings. They are not able to deceive the people any longer; they are sensible that the Queen Dowager has been the principal actor throughout the tragedy, in order to place her son upon the throne, but happily her wicked designs were discovered before she had time to put them into execution. The report she caused to be circulated of the King being poisoned, was only a prelude to what she intended to act, and then to have satisfied the people, would have charged his death to the Queen Matilda's account. The Queen Dowager finding herself detected in all her vile proceedings, to appease the people, gives it out that she has been ill advised, and that those about her have acted contrary to orders; but is this sufficient to satisfy the injured Queen, or will it restore to life the murdered Counts? The King, Queen Julia Maria, and Prince Frederick, were setting out for the Castle of Frederickshurg, but some thousands of people assembled, and went to the Royal palace, intreating his Majesty to continue there, for they apprehended if he went to the castle his life was in danger; on which account their journey is put off, and the King is obliged to shew himself every day at a window. Where this affair will end, time only will discover!

HAMBURGH, May 22. We have yet no certain accounts of an armistice being signed between Russia and the Porte. Some persons who pretend to be well acquainted with public affairs say, that these powers have only agreed upon a truce till the month of July next. It is likewise assured that the Court of Petersburg, has not entirely accepted the propositions of peace, and that she persists upon the independence of Crimea being maintained.
